

HECMate Connections: LIMITING NOTIFICATIONS

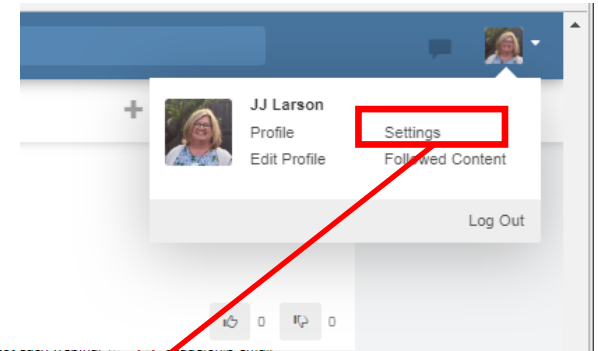

So now that you are all set up with your Forum (HECMates Connections) profile—
What can you do?

All member accounts are automatically set to receive notification/ alerts on ALL topics. However—when you set up your member profile—or at any time. You can change that setting for your profile.

Here's How:

Click on your avatar/ image. Go to settings. Make selections under "Preferences area" regarding notifications.

Weekly Digest Email

When a user has not visited the HECMA forum for a week, an email containing a list of the top 20 topics for that week will automatically be sent to them. Only topics that the user has permission for are included in the email.

The digest email is sent a maximum of once per week. The email is not sent to users who haven't visited the forum in more than 3 months. The email contains an unsubscribe link that allows the user to instantly unsubscribe with just one click.
